

Shoulder arthroscopy patient testimonial:

All her life Mary Ann Fitzsimmons turned to swimming as a form of therapy. That's why the Madison music teacher was devastated to learn she might never swim again after a shoulder injury that was considered irreparable. Then Mary Ann visited Dr. Rogerson and decided to undergo arthroscopic surgery to repair her rotator cuff tear. "Dr. Rogerson was so personable and genuinely dedicated to helping me get back to swimming," says Mary Ann. "Thanks to him and his caring staff, I'm now completely healed and working on a 1-mile freestyle!"
